While we had hoped and planned to gather this October in person for our annual Educational Conference, we, like many other organizations, have had to pivot in response to the Delta surge in the U.S. Therefore, we have made the decision to move the 26th Annual N.C. Workers' Compensation Educational Conference to an entirely virtual format.

Our conference will now take place on Tuesday-Friday, October 5-8, 2021. All presentations and panels that were scheduled to take place in person will still take place online, but an extra conference day has been added to optimize your virtual experience. Additionally, you will have the ability to watch all or part of the conference on-demand, at your convenience, for an additional five days after the conference ends (from October 18, 2021 through October 22, 2021). Note: Insurance adjusters may view all sessions but only can earn credits for the live-streamed sessions with live Q&A.

Attendee registration fees remain $325 per person paid on or after August 1.

Exhibitor fees are $500 for a virtual booth.

Gold Sponsorships are available for $1,000.

We hope you will attend the virtual conference to get all the same great content and all the same professional credits you would have received in person. If you previously signed up to attend, your registration will be automatically transferred to the virtual conference. If you would like a refund because of the change in format, however, please contact the International Workers' Compensation Foundation at IWCF@bellsouth.net. *Also, if you registered for the in-person conference and made a hotel reservation, please remember to cancel it.
